

To the baby-faced jump rope master

While training at my usual park (including jump rope)

I was approached by a kindergarten child...it happens occasionally

It's just an everyday occurrence for someone with such a youthful face...